FOREWORD

Come, walk with us through the doors of our school, into the halls which surround a treasure more precious than any stone placed upon this earth. We hope you realize, as we do, that it will be the last time for us, and feel the happiness, regret, and gratitude that is in our hearts. These halls form a path to success, happiness, and prosperity in the unforeseen future. The education obtained here, has prepared us, and now we must meet the challenge the world holds for us. It is at this stage of our life that we comprehend the full meaning in the saying, "time is precious."

SENIOR CLASS WILL

Ramona Mills - I hereby will and bequeath my height to Barbara Kammerer providing that she plays center during her remaining three years of high school basketball.

Kenny Kirkpatrick - I hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay out of trouble to Jim Hadley. Also I leave to Jim my ability in sports.

Marlene Juels - I hereby will and bequeath my ability for being moody to Bonnie Paulsen providing she has more good moods than bad moods.

Virgil Oostendorp - I hereby will and bequeath my ability to stick to one girl at a time to Bob Rudman because I know that he can make better use of it than I did.

Gayle Kaalberg - I hereby will and bequeath my ability to discover the finer points of strange unknown (southern???) lands to Roger Wieskamp providing that he leaves the house more than once a week.

Gayle Hollenbeck - I hereby will and bequeath my athletic ability to Larry Luetgens providing that he catches more girls with it than I did.

Jack Meyers - I hereby will and bequeath my ability to beat Lloyd Howe at Ping Pong to Bobby Middough providing he can skunk him like I can.

Wiladine Chown - I hereby will and bequeath my chair in band to Bobby Oostendorp providing that he doesn't make as many mistakes as I did.

Sally Sutton - I hereby will and bequeath my long legs to Ann Jones providing that she can outstep anyone on the team.

Helen Johnston - I hereby will and bequeath my position as editor of the Nicholite to anyone with a lot of courage, who has four hands, five feet, and can plan a forty-eight hour day.

Gary Smith - I hereby will and bequeath my outstanding ability to talk in study hall without permission to Sonny Christofferson as long as he upholds my fine record.

Lloyd Howe - Being completely defunct of anything else to leave I hereby will and bequeath my inheritance which I received upon the graduation of Daryl Swanson which was the ability to become a ladies man to Mr. William Hintermeister.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1978. I'm here to report news of the town of Little Nichols on the Moon. To be specific, the town is located in the crater known as Chown's Crater, named after the courageous woman space explorer who founded Little Nichols on the Moon in the year 1965. After the first voyage to our natural satellite, Wiladine, never one to let the male sex get the best of the fairer one, blasted off in her hopped-up Jupiter C and made the first unassisted landing on the Moon.

If we look into the past of this great personality, we will find that she was a member of the graduating class of 1958 of Nichols High School. Nichols, Iowa, back on Earth, that is.

Let me tell you a bit about our town. I guess you could say that LNOTM, that's short for Little Nichols on the Moon, is a little like the early towns of the far west. At least we still have a marshall. He's Marshall, Gayle Alfred Hollenbeck, another member of the class of "58" of NHS. Almost any afternoon you can find him standing on the steps of the "Bent Rocket Milk Bar" having his daily swig of Martian Cow Juice. Lloyd Howe, who runs the "Bent Rocket", does very well with his milk bar as it's the only place that you can still get a glass of Martian Cow Juice for a buck.

As we proceed down the main street of LNOTM, we find a good-looking blonde standing outside the main office of the P. R. Smith Muscle Building Corporation. If we inquire into her past we will find another graduate of NHS, class of "58" of course. Since the time in years past when we all knew her as Helen Johnston, she has become Mrs. P. R. Smith just as she planned back in "58". She has a nice family of friendly little kids and has become quite a muscle building fan.

Suddenly a roar is heard from overhead. There's Marlene Juels buzzing the town in her sports model Sputnik. I guess you could say that Marlene is the glamorous old maid of LNOTM. It's not that she didn't want to get married; it's just that she was having too much fun to bother.

Suddenly from the sheep farm on the hill comes that plaintive tune, "Swingin' Shepherd Blues" played on the hot trumpet of Hot Lips Gayle Kaalberg, another member of the class of "58". Gayle is a real "Swingin' Shepherd". He has a little sheep farm up on old rocky crag. It's the only place he could find to keep the sheep, because every time that they hear "Swingin' Shepherd Blues" they just go wild.

Wait! What's that strange noise. Oh! I know. It's Kenny Kirkpatrick singing. Gosh! That brings back memories. Kenny takes care of the cows that provide the milk for the "Bent Rocket Milk Bar".

Zoom! Gee that little redhead drives fast. Wonder who he belongs to? Wait, redhead did I say? Say there's Jack Meyers. Yes, the resemblance is sure marked. Jack's home and marriage plans must have worked out. But I wonder if he ever thought he'd fulfill them on the Moon.

And now from a real cool "pad" on a hill south of town come the pear-shaped tones of the silver trumpet of Virgil Oostendorp playing "yellow dog blues". Come to think of it, he always did like that song. I guess you could say that Virg is just one of the local characters. He just sits up there and plays sweet music to Yellow Dogs on Gary Smith's Yellow Dog Ranch out in the mountains. Gary and Virgil are another pair of "58" alumnus of NHS.

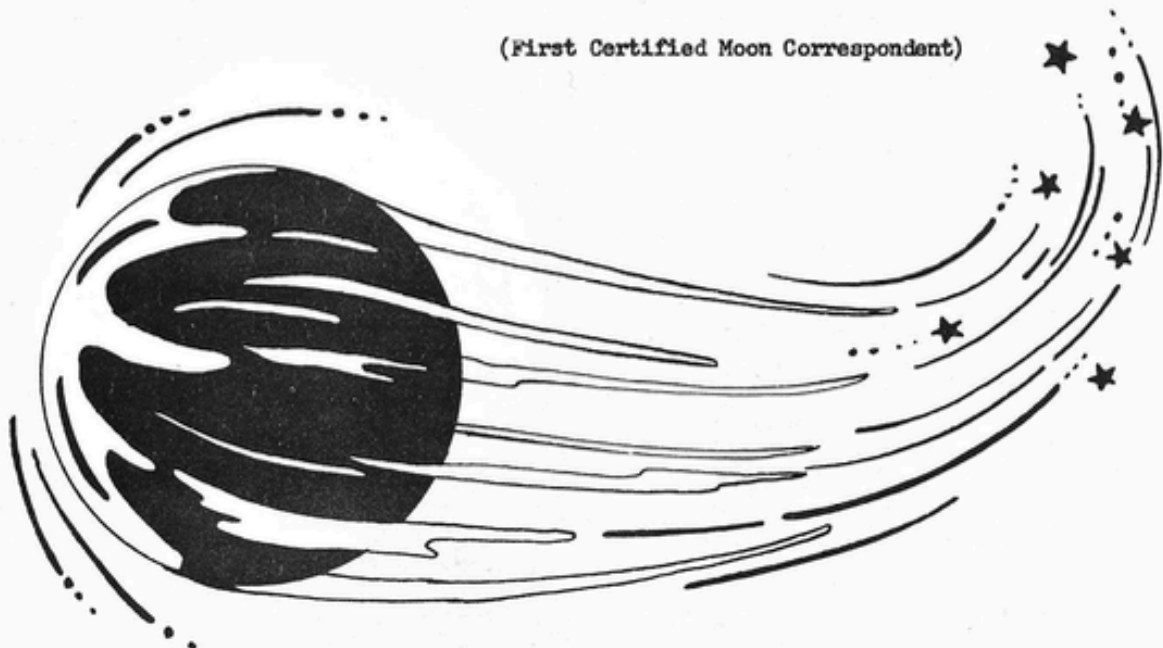

As we scan the misty blue horizon, we see the fabulous castle of the mayor of Little Nichols on the Moon, Sally Sutton. Maybe you remember the uproar on the Earth a few years back when Sally was elected mayor of LNOTM. It seems that women all over the universe marched on the capitals of the world demanding an equal right to be mayors of all Earthly cities.

See that tractor busily moving that mountain over there? Well, that's the tractor of T. B. Holcomb, the husband of the former Ramona Mills of the class of "58". She has helped him move many a mountain with that cat.

Well Folks, that about ends our little educational tour of the first settlement on our closest neighbor, the moon.

Signed

STUDENT COUNCIL

The respective classes of Nichols High School chose eight members for the student council this year. Jack Meyers was chosen as president of the student council at large. The main business of the student council this year was to govern the games which the school board bought for the school. These games included a plastic bowling set, a floor shuffleboard set, and a ping pong table. These games are greatly enjoyed by the student body. A set of rules were set up concerning the use of these games. Details for the Christmas exchanges were also handled by the student council.

FINAL

Yes, time is precious. The time spent here, working, playing — the hours of happiness, hours of tedium, and hours of hard study — All have been precious.

Now that the time has arrived for us to leave school, the future stretches before us like a shining ribbon. Yet no matter what the future hold for us, we will still remember those wonderful high school days. Thanks for the memory!
